

A top-down view of a bowl of Veggie Tan Tan Men. The dish is served in a dark, textured bowl. It features a thick, orange-red, spicy-looking broth. In the center is a large, soft-boiled egg with a white yolk and a slightly runny white, topped with a drizzle of yellow oil and red chili flakes. Surrounding the egg are several cubes of white tofu, also coated in the broth and chili flakes. To the left of the egg are several pieces of sliced bamboo shoots. The entire dish is garnished with a generous amount of sliced green onions. The lighting is warm, highlighting the textures of the ingredients.
